Hard to believe. We are so excited to be celebrating our 40th anniversary. It's all because of you—our beloved customers who are in love with beauty in the same funky, artistic, and romantic way we are. To commemorate this special occasion, we would like to ask you to share your photos wearing or styling some of our dresses, tablecloths, hats, scarves, baby clothes—whatever! Show us how you showed it off. We will post pictures on Facebook and on our website, where we will be holding regular drawings for prizes and gift certificates. So help us celebrate 40 years of designing for beautiful women. That's Y-O-U!

keeping traditions alive

We have been manufacturing in India for almost 40 years. In fact, we so fell in love with the place—the craft, the textiles, the expertise, and the people of India—that 24 years ago, we opened an office in New Delhi. Then, in 1992, we started our own factory.

Just three years ago, we moved to a new space, painted it magenta, planted bougainvillea and flowering tress, and made our “girls mean business” statement in the heart of industrial India.

Owned by a woman and run by a woman, we feel unique in the world of global manufacturing. Here we proudly employ more than 350 skilled tailors, pattern makers, cutting masters, embroidery designers, production experts, and fabric experts in a factory that matches the standards and the style of our Vermont-based headquarters.

All our fabrics are designed by us. The prints, the patterns, and even the weaves are sourced in India, truly the wealthiest nation of textiles. Here the respect for art, design and craft, apprenticeship and skill still exists.

We strive to include these wonderful skills in our clothes and in our linens, to keep alive these arts that, once common, are now quickly disappearing.

making a difference

We believe in making a difference in the world, where we live, and where we work. As a company with deep roots in Canada, USA, and India, we are truly global and believe that giving back is part of our corporate responsibility.

For years, the April Cornell Company has supported projects for mothers and children, for first generation learners, for the blind and the handicapped, for the imprisoned and the homeless. It has been our blessing and our privilege to give a hand up, not a hand out to others in need.

We believe that education is power. Knowledge leads to awareness, opportunity, and good decision making. We also know that in this world there are areas where it is not about school, but about surviving. We include Doctors Without Borders in our annual giving. We believe in Nature and support her through Audubon. We believe in trust communication and support it through Vermont Public Radio, and we believe in helping our neighbors through United Way.

In India, where our factory gives us so much beautiful product, so much craft and skill, we give back with every item we make to those in need. We also support a variety of fundraising events and such charitable organizations as Concern India. For more about our giving back, visit us at www.givingworldfoundation.org

the sunny possibilities of our picturesque provence collection

Bring some April Cornell color into your home with a classic blue and yellow combination that captures the promise of spring. Harriet's Hydrangea, Rosehip, and Jamavar are just a few of the patterns that create one of our most treasured collections of linens. Harriet's Hydrangea in yellow suggests the promise of spring. Rosehip is the quintessential, definitive April Cornell print—a staple since 1984. The Jamavar border was originally inspired by a trip I took to the Taj Mahal in 1992, when I lived in India for a year. All made from our exquisite Indian cotton. Each product carries a unique design developed for its format—table cloth, napkin, runner, or tea cozy. Imported cotton.
